Enterprise Informational Portal

Corporate Intranets and Extranets are aimed at improving the Market Intelligence within the Enterprise. AshTouch has incorporated features that an Enterprise needs to access information quickly across the organisation & assist in building relationships between people. AshTouch, allows an enterprise to quickly harness the power of The Internet to assimilate market information, disseminate information and facilitate response in line with the client's needs & expectations.

A quick reflection on the most desired features in a corporate web initiative reveals two aspects - Static and Dynamic. Static aspect has company profiles, product /service information that change infrequently. Dynamic aspects relate to client interactions, service requests, management of complaints etc. Static & Dynamic interactions are an integral part of a web initiative. AshTouch, integrates easily with existing web sites and presents an opportunity for swift deployment of an Enterprise Informational Portal.

AshTouch is Web based, simple to install and operates alongside an existing email system. if you want your company to derive additional profits from better relationships, do contact us for a FREE TRIAL.
